CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PRACTITIONER DIES IN BOSTON

Ogden friends of Mrs. Lucetta H. Kimball, Salt Lake Christian Science practitioner, today received word of her death in Boston, yesterday, where she had gone to visit her daughter.

Mrs. Kimball, who was a daughter of Joseph L. Haywood, was born in Salt Lake 62 years ago. In 1882 she married Frank D. Kimball, who, with the following children, survive her: Leland Kimball of Salt Lake, Mrs. R. E. Wadleigh of Delta and Miss Florence Kimball, who during the war was engaged in war work with the Y. M. C. A. and recently returned from France.

"Thirty years ago Mrs. Kimball was converted to the Christian Science faith and immediately took up the work in that city. She was the first practitioner in the city and later became second reader. It was largely through her efforts, it is said, that the local churches grew so rapidly. After serving several years as second reader in the first church, she continued work for the church and made it her life labor."

SENATE TO START ON PEACE TREATY DEBATE

Discussion to Continue Until Vote on Ratification Reached Is Lodge Announcement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Uninterrupted senate consideration of the peace treaty until a vote is reached on ratification will begin Thursday under a plan announced in the senate today by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, and received without objection from the Democratic side.

Decision to keep the treaty up continually was regarded generally as likely to bring quickly to a decision the conflict of opinion among the Democrats regarding reservations. Returning to the capital after two days, Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader, said today he had not been approached with a proposal for a party caucus, though Democratic senators are endeavoring to arrange one.

If any considerable number of Democrats want such a conference, he said, "I certainly shall not oppose the suggestion."

Republican claims that twenty-two Democrats had shown a willingness to accept the Republican reservations without change were said by the Democratic leader to be "probably exaggerated," but he added that he had not made a canvass of the situation during the last few days.

JUVENILE COURT RECORDS SHOW SUICIDE MADE SEVERAL ATTEMPTS TO GAIN POSSESSION OF CHILDREN

Valley R. Summers, who committed suicide Sunday, after attempting to murder his former wife, had made other attempts to gain possession of his children, according to Judge Dan Sullivan, of the juvenile court.

Summers made the last attempt Sunday evening. When his wife refused to let him carry away the boy, Summers drew a pistol and shot her, and then turned the pistol upon himself.

She is recovering at the Dea hospital. The body of Summers is at a local morgue.

The two appeared before Judge Sullivan last summer. Valley R. Summers trying to have the court grant him custody of the children.

The home of Summers is in Decatur, Ill. Judge Sullivan stated, and while in Missouri about four years ago, the two were divorced. The mother was granted custody of the children. Immediately after the divorce, Mrs. Summers came to Ogden to live with relatives.

Mrs. Summers was a cousin to the Wilson girls connected with the fake marriage with Amir Singh and another Hindoo and was a witness to the ceremony, Judge Sullivan said.

Because of the life which his former wife was leading, Summers came to Ogden and sought custody of the children. Judge Sullivan stated that he drew up two complaints against the wife of Summers, but the suit was not carried through. One attempt of Summers to get the children occurred while the trial of Mary Wilson against Amir Singh was going on.

Prior to this time, Summers had abducted the boy and returned to Decatur, Ill. Mrs. Summers went back after the child and they returned to Ogden together.

Judge Sullivan stated that while Mrs. Summers had appeared before the juvenile court on complaint of her former husband, no cause for action could have been found in her manner of caring for the children. "She was devoted, and seemed willing to be hard on the selfishness of her children," Judge Sullivan said.

Last summer, the former husband, who was working for one of the local ice companies, left Ogden and until the time of the shooting had not been heard of by the juvenile court, Judge Sullivan stated.

While the couple had failed to care for each other, both retained their love for their children. Summers was crazed with disappointment at having his children grow up under circumstances that he considered detrimental, according to Judge Sullivan.

An inquest is being held this afternoon at the city hall on the body of Mike Termain who is said to have been shot by Jennie Scardone on Friday of last week. Two witnesses were called in the persons of Dr. W. R. Brown and City Patrolman Earl Wiggins and the hearing was still in session when The Standard went to press.

Attorney David L. Stine watched proceedings in the behalf of the accused woman, and County Attorney James D. R. Roberts presided.

County School Boys Must Get Permits to Leave School. With the approach of good weather, a general exodus of county school boys old enough to assist in farm work, is reported by Attendance Supervisor T. R. Jones. He states that many farm boys are pursuing the old idea of quitting school in the spring. Unless permits are secured from the county school board offices, all absences from school will be regarded as truancy, he stated, and the truants will be hauled before the juvenile court.

CASE OF JUVENILE IS STILL UNDECIDED IN COURT. The question of the authority of the district court to pass upon juveniles, charged with a felony, is still undecided by Judge A. W. Adee in the district court in the matter of the case of Anton Perkins, colored, 17 years of age, and charged with burglary.

This morning Perkins appeared in court. He was represented by Attorney Joseph Cherz, who held that the juvenile should be taken before a juvenile court and that the city court had no jurisdiction to bind a juvenile over to the district court. He said that the accused could be taken before the juvenile court and that court could either send the boy to the reform school, or order him bound over to the district court for trial.

The case was ordered continued for a week in order to allow the officers to check up on the actual age of the accused.

Witness Against New York Socialists Coming. Peter W. Collins of Boston, who was one of the witnesses against the five suspended Socialist assemblymen in New York, will appear in Ogden April 6, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus of this city, according to Juvenile Judge Dan Sullivan. James J. Walsh of New York and David Goldstein, also of Boston, will appear at a later date. Information regarding the visit of the speakers to this city was received today from the supreme council of the Knights of Columbus at New Haven, Conn.

LESS THAN HALF OF INCOME TAX PAID SAYS COLLECTOR

With less than three weeks remaining before the final filing date of March 15, considerably less than one-half of all the income tax returns for Ogden and Weber county have been received to date, according to the estimate of R. H. Argubright, division deputy collector of internal revenue. Those received have come almost exclusively from individuals, rather than partnerships and corporations.

While it can scarcely be charged to stringent financial conditions, there is a marked disposition this year to defer payment of income and excess profits taxes until some time near the final filing date of March 15, states the revenue officer. The situation, if persisted in, will cause much delay to persons requiring assistance in filling out their income tax blanks.

"It does not seem that partnerships are taking full cognizance of the law in that every partnership is required to file return for 1919, regardless of the amount of net earnings, even though there be no earning whatever," said Deputy Argubright today. "It is not necessary that a partnership be recognized as such under common business practice. If a father and son are engaged in farming and participate in the profits as partners this is as much of a partnership as any mercantile firm operating under partnership conditions and a return must be filed."

"Employers are also to be closely checked after March 15 for the filing of the Forms 1099 and 1096 regarding payments of $1000 or more during the year 1919. Regardless of the number of payments made, be it one or one thousand, the returns covering this information at the source must be filed on or before March 15."

The number of income tax returns received from farmers in this section of the state will fall below previous years, according to the local revenue officer. This is due largely to the drought of last summer which reduced the crop yield and to the high wages paid to farm laborers.

Corporations continue to benefit for 1919 under the exemption of $2000 for normal tax purposes but even though a corporation may have no tax whatever it is not exempted from filing return.

OGDEN MAN TO RACE WITH DEATH; WIFE IS SERIOUSLY ILL. After having been called from Arizona to attend the funeral of his daughter, C. W. Wright, 1728 Washington avenue, today was prepared to make a race with death upon hearing that his wife is seriously ill at Thatcher, Arizona.

Mr. Wright recently took his wife to the coast and later to Arizona for her health. His daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Peterson, died in Salt Lake last week and he attended the services. He expects to depart late today for the bedside of his wife, Mrs. Margaret C. Robinson Wright.

"The Copper Head" comes Sunday. Every mother, father, son and daughter should see "The Copper Head" at the Alhambra.

FARMERS URGED TO AVOID SHORTAGE OF WATER. Need of careful selection of crops because of the probable water shortage next summer, has been emphasized by D. D. McKay, president of the Utah State Farm Bureau in the following statement:

"Planting time is fast approaching and the prospect of a scarcity of water in many sections of the state during the next summer now seems more or less certain. The experiences of last summer would seem to warrant a lot of care on the part of the farmer in the selection of the crops to be grown this season."

In those sections of the state where an abundance of water is assured for the entire season the choice is limited only by altitude, but in those sections where there is a shortage of water for any part of the growing season, those crops only should be planted which can be matured while there is water. Otherwise, the failures of last season may be repeated. The small companies, the locals and the individuals should give the matter serious consideration at any rate."

Stevens Resigns From City Health Department. Ernest E. Stevens of the health department tendered his resignation to Commissioner J. R. Ward this morning. He has accepted a better position with the Newman-Stuart company, Commissioner Ward stated. The services of Mr. Stevens while he has been with the health department as clerk of vital statistics, have been very satisfactory, Commissioner Ward stated.

The vacancy will be filled by a stenographer who will have charge of vital statistics, in addition to performing stenographic duties.

LEVANT HOUSE TO BE ORGANIZED IN N. Y. MEREDITH OPPOSES PENNY WISE POLICIES

Undertaking for Benefit of Business and Others Interested in the Far East Secretary of Agriculture Out to Show Farmers How They Can be Assisted CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 24.—The American chamber of commerce for the Levant has undertaken to organize a Levant house in New York City for the mutual benefit of business men and others, either here or in America, who are interested in the Near East. The suggestion originated with G. B. Raynald, American commissioner and consul general here and honorary president of the local chamber of commerce.

It is proposed to establish the Levant house along the lines of the India house, one of the historic clubs of New York, but with the modern equipment of other well known business, engineering, or foreign trade organizations already centered in New York. One of its purposes would be to record and commemorate America's contribution to the advancement of civilization among Egyptians, Arabs, Armenians, Turks, Greeks and Bulgarians. Literary research and lectures upon this topic would be actively encouraged.

The American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant has named, partly among its officers and directors at large, a group of active business men in the United States to whom it has entrusted the work of carrying the Levant house scheme into execution. These are: C. E. Lydecker, Ralph Milton Odell, Edward Neville Voss, Lucien Irving Thomas, Edward Ewing Pratt, E. C. Porter, H. M. Hitchcock, H. M. Day, and Harold Hosking of New York City; Herbert Adams Gibbons of Princeton, W. T. Ellis of Philadelphia, and Luther Fowle of Boston.

It is believed that the movement will be furthered also by men like Cleveland H. Dodge, James A. Farrell, Arthur B. Farquhar, E. H. Huxley and C. H. Minor, life members of the American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant, and Henry Morgenthau, Abram I. Elkus and William C. Redfield, honorary members of the chamber.

The short weight artist and the man who mixes cedar sawdust with red pepper doesn't like the department because it interferes with his profits," he said.

"These men get into print and give us the wrong sort of publicity. On the other hand those who are benefited by our activities often do not know whence the help comes."

"I am going to work as advertising manager of the department and if I can give the people of this country some idea of the honest work done in the department and the benefits which the country has derived from them, I will do it."

Hoover Denies Breaking Faith With Hog Raisers. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Denial that the food administration had broken faith with hog producers relative to maintenance of pork prices during the war was made by Herbert Hoover in a letter received today by Senator Henderson, Democrat, Nevada, and read in the senate.

"The farmer," Mr. Hoover said, "realized fully $2.50 per 100 more than he has realized this season in an unwarped market. Under the plan used, the packers' and the distributors' profits were held to a definite margin and the consumers' costs were less a year ago on hogs than they are today."

Senator Gronna, Republican, North Dakota, took issue with Mr. Hoover asserting that witnesses before the senate agriculture committee, had stated most emphatically that there was a break of faith by the government relative to hogs.

President Wilson to Sign Land Lease Bill. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Wilson is expected to sign the oil land leasing bill tomorrow. Unless he signs or vetoes it before midnight tomorrow night it will become a law automatically.

Before taking final action the president asked reports on the measure from Secretary Daniels and John Barton Payne, who as secretary of the interior, will administer the bill. These are expected to be in hand early tomorrow.

BRITISH VICTORY MEDAL. LONDON, Feb. 7.—A design for the British victory medal has been accepted by the war office. The medal will be of bronze with a figure of winged victory on one side and on the other the inscription "The Great War for Civilization," with an ornamental border.
